This architectural floor plan shows a building layout with a large section shaded in red. The red-shaded area occupies the left and central portions of the plan, containing several rooms and corridors. To the right of this area is a white-shaded section featuring a prominent spiral staircase, a kitchen area with a sink and stove, and other smaller rooms. The building is bounded by a thick black line representing the exterior wall, with a hatched area on the far left and a grey area on the far right. The plan includes various architectural details such as doors, windows, and furniture like tables and chairs.
